The dynasty and the Government of China had just been deeply indebted to foreigners for enabling them to stem the tide of rebellion, which was threatening to engulf them both; 'the waves of the Tacping rebellion had been checked and turned back by foreign arms Nothing would have been easier to foreigners or more beneficial to foreign trade, than to have held a considerable tract of the country under foreign rule until order was restored, just as Russia did with Kuldja; until either the Taepings settled themselves firmly in power, or the Imperialists crushed them. The English and French commander had a poor opinion of the capacity of the Tacpings to organize a settled Government, and they accordingly prevented them from procuring the arms they needed, put no obstacle in the way of the Imperialists providing themselves, and gave the most important assistance to them. By the aid of the foreigner, the Imperialist Government was enabled to crush one of the most formidable, and so far the most successful, of rebellions ever seen, which had maintained itself for 18 years and conquered half the country. Revolutions are not made with rose-water, and the Chinese rebellion was marked by the most sanguinspecial request by a gentleman well ary scenes of slaughter and devastation qualified to deal with the subject:- on both sides. We hold the same opinion; that the loss of 30 men from one particular force must be considerable, but we hope that Hongkong will be the gainer thereby. When recruits are required for the Shanghai Police, the same plan as that adopted by Captain Deane would probably add to the efficiency of our local force.

As immediate antecedents to America's treaty with Corea nothing, says the Japan Mail, could have been more unfortunate than the anti-Chinese-immigration bill and Commodore Shufeldt's open letter to the Hon. A. Sargent of California. To the latter we have already briefly alluded, but we cannot suffer to pass without protest the gross and, we believe, totally groundless charge which the Commodore has not hesitated to bring against the moral character of the Empress Regent. THE DRAINAGE DIFFICULTY.

5 To the Editor of the "Hosekose Telegraph." Str.-Having a nose very sensitive to evil I would draw your attention to the old grievance of the stinks from the sewers running into-the harbour at low water, and to suggest that until a more thorough and elaborate scheme be adopted to altogether take the sewage to a more distant outlet, or further into the harbour, temporary sliding sluice valves might be fitted to the sewer mouths in the Praya Wall. Such, if fitted with faced and ground air tight strips round the door, and kept against a fixed frame round the mouth of the sewer by a few light springs, or a buffer of India rubber, the door being attached to a float (if necessary assisted by an air cushioning cylinder) to be acted on by the tide, so that the lower edge of the shince door might always be, say six inches under water, the door of course rising and falling with the tide. I venture to think the obnoxious and often dangerous smells from these open sewers would almost if not altogether disappear, for I notice it is only when the sewer mouth is above the surface of the pany's premises. The reply to his Memorial is water that these smells are troublesome.

I FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT:

Censor Chang Pei-lung memorialized on the 6th instant, for a railroad from here to Tungchow and if necessary from Taku to here, recommending the acceptance of the Japanese tender which is 30 per cent, cheaper than others. He is a native of this, and, in consequence of his mother's death, is now acting as examiner of students here; he it was for whom our new Viceroy applied to be appointed to assist him in Foreign affairs, for which he received a repriinand. anxiously looked for, According to Chinese reports the Kaiping Coal Mines turn out at present between 90 to 120 tons of coal per day, of the same quality as those shipped and tried lately, but it is thought as soon as the new canal from the Pei-tang to the Pei-hois finished, the godowns and wharf made, the outturn will be from 200 to 250 tons per day. The iron mines are by Li Hung-chang's order forbidden to be worked. What a pity! with the fine machinery, &c., &c., and furnaces brought out and pnt up there, to lie idle, hundreds of thousands of tacks invested, and the only thing, too, which would make the Tong mine pay, whereas it is now a sinking fund, according to the Chinese

The Wharfage dues collection by the Customs is worked very satisfactorily, and it is hoped that as payments are made the Customs Taotai will take steps to have the road made at once, for both foreigner and Chinese are looking anxiously forward to see it done, as a good broad road in the hot weather will be very enjoyable.

Taotai Taotai Mr. Kien-tsung returned on the 15th instaut from Korea and is to leave for there again. The Chinese say here that both Admiral Ting and Ma Kien-tsung, upon Li Hung-chang's authority, thought they could express their ideas to the Koreans as plainly as they like, and that China had exercised sovereighty over Korea and that all political and foreign affairs can only be concluded through China and Li Hung-chang; these expressions did not seem to suit the Korean Government; therefore all arrangements about trade with China and the China Merchants' S. On the 13th inst; the Tientsin Wu Yü-lan died from heart disease; he had felt unwell for several days, and at the last hour sent for Dr. Mackenzic, and, Chinese like, it is said, took both Chinese and foreign medicine. His Excellency has been here for about ten years, first Member of the Board of War Court, then Superintendent of the Powder Works, and since 1879 Taotai of Tien-

Your copy of the United States Treaty with Korca seems to be a little different from some Chinese copies seen here; perhaps your contemporary, the N.-C. Daily News, did not translate and this may be looked on as a fair indication object has been in regard to this Korean Treaty to get some Foreign Power to recognize China's Sovereign right over Korea, fearing it may slip away as Loochoo slipped away. That if the Korean Government protest, and the attention of Japan is drawn to it, will be overcome on Ma Kien-tsung's return to Korea. - Mercury.

LOSS OF THE AMERICAN BARQUE

"DIRIGO," The American barque Dirigo, of Boston, Cap-Stirling's brilliant run is matter for hearty con- tain Staples, 685 tons, lest Sydney on May 7th, gratulation both to the builers and navigators of bound to Shanghai, with a cargo of coals, with CARDS, PROSPECTUSES, DEBIT NOTES, perhaps the fastest long distance steamer affoat; ordinary weather till the 16th of June. The fol- LABELS, PROGRAMMES of ENTERTAINfor henceforward the Stirling Castle must be lowing is the Master's report of the loss of the classed as equal if not superior to the Alaska or vessel. This day commenced with fresh breezes PORTS, &c., &c. consideration that she started from Hankow ing showers. Steered N.W. by N., and at That Captain Marshall was con- mainsail, ship reduced to topsails, foresails, and I

23 fathoms, muddy bottom. Steered N.E. by Hankow wager that he would report himself to N. until 9.45 p.m., then furled upper topsails, came to by the wind, sounded, had 30 fathoms, very strong breezes and very dark and raining hard. At about 11.20 p.m. saw land on | C O the lee-beam, tried to wear ship, set the jub, but before getting up before the wind, she struck the rocks and soon filled with water. She struck so hard that we thought we should all be lost, but after being aground about an hour, she did not thump so hard, the wind hauling more to the eastward and getting lighter. We struck on the south west side of Video on the top of high water. As the tide left, the vessel headed off shore, we tried to land before daylight but could not find any place to do so. After daylight we got a few things on shore on a gas warp, then launched the long boat and left the vessel. In the morning, the Chiyuen. passed and picked up all hands, consisting of twelve persons, who were brought on to Shanghai. The vessel was partially insured.

Captain Wallace, of the steamer Chiyuen, which arrived here 'yesterday furnishes us with the following report :- On Saturday, June 17th, about 5 a.m., when about 2 miles S.E. of the Island of Video, passed a white painted boat bottom up. On proceeding to the north of the island, observed a vessel on shore, and apparently wrecked. Having proceeded as near to the wreck as possible for the purpose of rendering assistance, saw a ship's longboat pulling towards the steamer, which proved to contain the captain, officers, and crew of the American barque Dirigo, of Boston, from Sydney, and bound for Shanghai, having struck on the Island of Video the previous night at 11 o'clock. Having received them on board and hoisted their | Seals, &c., &c. The public and Travellers are boat on our davits, we proceeded to Shanghai. - | invited to inspect the show rooms.
